

CMCAS

Capital Markets Credit Analysts Society

JOHN DELL'AQUILA has been Managing Director at Societe Generale since 2005 where he serves as Global Co-Head of Hedge Fund Risk Management. Current responsibilities include managing teams of analysts in the U.S., Europe and Asia with a scope including counterparty credit extension, structured fund products, due diligence of hedge funds and funds of hedge funds, and contract negotiations for all related transactions. Prior to Societe Generale, from 2000 John was Vice President at KBC Financial Products where he was responsible for credit and market risk management for hedge fund counterparties. Before KBC, John was a Relationship Manager at Societe Generale for hedge fund clients from 1995 to 2000. From 1992 to 1995 he was Vice President at PaineWebber in Credit focused on Mortgage Banking Industry. He began his career in banking in the Accounting department at Wood Gundy Corp, a subsidiary of CIBC. John graduated from St. John's University with a B.S. in Finance in 1988.